FORECAST FOR MAY

Ganderbone Has Finally Located Prosperity

(Copyright 1939, by C. H. Rieth.)

The shades of night were falling fast As through the Afric jungle passed A wounded lion, badly hit And followed by a crowd, to-wit:

One ex-President,
Four trackers,
One water boy,
Three photographers,
Two stenographers,
One taxidermist,
Two skinkers,
And 400 bushbeaters.

At length the lion reached his lair, Backed into it in deep despair, And vowed so long as life was his To fight, though sorely wounded, viz:

One leg shattered,
Two knife slashes on back, Four ribs kicked in,
One dum-dum bullet in head,
Two steel-nosed bullets in body,
One ear blown off,
And bitten thru the windpipe.

The shouting and the tumult grew,
The angry bullets spat and flew,
And when the king of beasts was shot The following fireworks were not:

Six skyrocketers,
Two flowerpots,
One spinwheel,
Four Roman candles,
Three B. T. Washington chasers, Two medium-sized bombs,
And one son-of-a-gun.

May gets its name from Maia, who was the mother of Mercury, the Roman god of prosperity. If business is going to improve at all, it will do so under this favorable sign, for May was named for and dedicated to gain, and during its thirty-one days business has usually been good and money comparatively abundant.

In addition to Mercury's temple in Rome, an altar was raised to him over a well near the Porta Capena, and here the merchants repaired on the festival of the god (May 25) to sprinkle their goods with the waters of the well that they might be purified and yield a big profit. This was the origin of watering stocks and even to this time the 25th of May is a holiday in Wall street and the New Jersey legislature.

Wake me early, mother darling, at the breaking of the day, for I'm to be queen of the May, mother, I'm to be queen of the May. I have the bonnet, mother—it's the strangest ever seen, and you bet your bottom dollar it's the bonnet makes the queen. It has the seemingly, mother, of a coal-hod upside down, with the spout projecting backwards from the flower-covered crown, while the circling bell upon it passes underneath my chin—wake me early!
I am crazy for the voting to begin.

The meadowlark will warble and the apple tree will bloom, the frog will woo his true love with his melancholy boom, the barefoot boy will issue his spring challenge to the tack, the lamb will frisk and gambol like a jack-knife in the back, the playful winds will frolic in the fields of waving green, and the terrible mosquito press his face against the screen.

Come out into the garden, Maude, the vines begin to run, and the seed our congressman sent out are sprouting every one. The gumbo and the oyster plant are seven inches high, and the mint (I wonder does he know the state has voted dry? A congressman in Washington can keep himself so wet that even if his state is dry, he's likely to forget.) However that may be, the squash was never looking fatter, and the first fruit of his seven terms is threatening the platter.

The news from Washington will be What it has always been Since Roosevelt stepped down and out And Taft was ushered in.

The capital will rise at 8, Retire again at 10,
Get up for lunch at noon and go To bed at 1 again,
Arise at 5, stay up till 8,
And finally retire,
And there will not be a dog-gone thing To put upon the wire.

The correspondents who were wont to listen at the cracks will sit around the White House steps engaged at playing jacks. The president will ride upon his bucking rocky horse, the gun men will turn up their toes and perish of remorse, the tariff argument will drown its weary way along, the strong will battle with the weak, and right will wrestle wrong, the vested interests will howl, the planter will protest, the miner will exhort the law to succor the oppressed, the women will combat the tax upon a Paris hat, and about the time we settle it, we won't know where we're at.

Until the 20th May will be under the zodiacal sign of Taurus the Bull.
Mr. Roosevelt will by this time have reached the Albertine Basin, and the influence of Taurus will cause him to do a good deal of roaring. The lions and other fairly good roarsers will compete with him a while, but after they have heard him roar two or three times they will bust up a good deal of brush getting on the other side of the Congo.

People born under Taurus have very intricate minds, and they understand the tariff debate. They are unerring in love, and generally marry their affinities at the outset. There is a natural attraction between persons born under opposite signs of the zodiac, and a Taurus married usually marries a Scorpio woman, or that is, being born in October, he usually married a woman born in October. This is said to be a natural match, or one in which the chance of divorce is reduced to the minimum.

The password for May will be Lions, and the storm center for the month will be in Uganda. The first shipment of skins will arrive about the 23th, and anybody wishing one can have it by subscribing to Scribner's Magazine and The Outlook.

And then the month of June will come With all its newweds,
And every westbound ship will bring A lot of skins and heads.

terest in the Miami Metropolis and

LIGHT IN THE LIMELIGHT

He Has Introduced a Bill that Would Rip the Business Interests Up the Back

Tallahassee, April 27.—House bill No. 309, introduced April 21 by Mr.
Light of Marion, was read the first time and referred to the committee on finance and taxation. It is a measure vitaly affecting a large number of business interests in this state, as seen by section 1, and emphatic, sound and logical protests against its passage are already coming in. Conservative citizens here say it is one of the most unjust measures ever introduced and that its passage would practically bankrupt every public service company, all of which are already doubly taxed.

DEATH OF A LITTLE GIRL

Little Dorothy Ritchie died at the home of her parents at Lowell this morning. Mr. Ritchie has been in the employ of Mr. J. M. McFert for the past 14 years. The friends of the family gave them their heartfelt sympathy over the loss of their baby daughter.

A CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the good people of Ocala and especially of the Baptist Church for their kind aid and assistance to me recently and assure them that their many acts of kindness were most highly appreciated. Respectfully, Mrs. Mattie Harvey,
Montague, Fla., April 26, 1939.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to tender our sincere thanks and appreciation to friends who generously and unselfishly assisted in ministering to the wants and comforts of our dear mother, Mrs. Emily P. Casey in her late illness.
Mrs. Nancy McClure,
Mrs. Sue Pyles,
Mrs. Robert McClure.
Ocala, Fla., April 24, 1939.

DR. WILSON TO GRADUATE

Dr. Alpheus Keller Wilson, of Lake City, and a brother of Mrs. C. N.
Schlemmer, of Ocala, is a member of the graduating class of the Medical College of South Carolina. The graduating exercises will take place in the Academy of Music at Charleston, on Wednesday evening, April 28th. Dr.
Wilson has often visited his sister in Ocala and has many friends here.

The Verdict of Long Experience.
When you have used a thing twenty years you know pretty well what it is.
A baker writes from Sidney, Neb., that for twenty years he has been using Cottolene in his bakery, and finds it the best cooking fat he ever used. He even recommends its use to those who are doing their own baking. This testimonial is noteworthy because it is from a man who makes baking his business and who therefore is in position to judge from long practical use.
Cottolene can be used for all shortening and frying purposes; makes plump, crisp doughnuts, flaky biscuits and light, rich cake. It is better, cheaper and more wholesome than lard.

IT WAS EXCELLENT

The Enjoyable Performance Given by the Millar Brothers at the Armory Last Night

It was a highly pleased audience that left the armory Monday evening after witnessing the first performance of Millar Bros' vaudeville novelties.
The entertainment from first to last was one of quality and excellence. The curtain went up on the first edition of Millar Bros' mechanical novelty.
Nothing like this exhibition has ever been witnessed in this city. The most startling, surprising and beautiful color and mechanical movements are introduced into real paintings. The Diorama is in no way similar to moving pictures, but is far superior as a thing of beauty. The paintings are soft and mellow and most charming to the eye. A truly splendid effect is that of the "Old Kentucky Home".
Another equally as fine but of a different type is the painting of the ship at sea. The storm and the rescue are the most realistic scenes ever gotten up. The transformations are truly gorgeous in the extreme.

The Millar Bros. have a large sum invested in their exhibition and have made a life-time study of their work with the result that their art cannot be copied. The second number brings on Millar and Collins in their comedy, which proved to be about the funniest thing we have seen. The work of May Collins, a healthy looking and handsome Irish girl, appeared as the animated German girl in native costume. She created much hearty laughter and great applause. William Millar appeared in his eccentric characters and his monologue certainly got the laughs, and his appearance as a comic Scotch highlander scream. He sang "When Highland Mary Danced the Highland Fling".
There is much to amuse in the act of Millar and Collins and it is as they claim, "out of the usual rut" and something new in the much traveled rut of comedy.

The third and concluding number brings on the second edition of the diorama. To attempt to describe the many magnificent paintings and effects would be almost impossible.
They were greeted by round after round of applause from the audience.
The entire show is up to date and a thoroughly good one from end to end. It is as far superior to the film shows, which have become so common of late, as day is to night. Besides, the Millar Bros' work has individuality. The company came to Ocala highly recommended and will certainly leave this city with a hearty good will of the people. Tonight, Tuesday, will be the last opportunity of witnessing the Millar Bros' performance.
Change of program and the same scale of prices.

reports that the canal zone is being borers on the canal for the Japanese bia is being blamed for the situation, as it is sending in hordes of Japanese to the canal zone. President Taft may indicate his displeasure to Co-

AN ELOQUENT ADDRESS

By Mr. F. E. Harris, Editor of the Ocala Banner, to the Bankers of Florida at Live Oak

(Banner)

After one of the largest attended and most successful meetings of the bankers' association of Florida a most superb banquet was tendered it by the citizens of Live Oak in which city the annual meeting was held. This pleasant affair was given at the Suwannee hotel one of the finest interior hotelries in Florida. There were places for one hundred and every place was occupied. The beauty and chivalry of Live Oak were "gathered there," and the picture presented was one of loveliness. Live Oak may well boast of the beauty of its women and the deportment of its men. There were also brilliant wit and animation. We are really surprised at the spontaneous effusions of wit at these gatherings.
It was the same way at the banquet given in honor of the editors at St.
Augustine.

The doors of the banquet hall were to have opened precisely at 9 o'clock but for some unavoidable delay the great doors were not flung open until some minutes after 10.

As the assembled throng were seated strains of delightful music lent additional pleasure to the occasion.

Being seated, the banquetters were confronted with the following menu:

Manhattan Cocktail
Canape Anchovy
Salted Almonds
Green Turtle, Clear
Fried Fillet of Sole Cucumbers, Pommes Saratoga Olives Imported Sherry
Chicken Croquette a la Reine French Peas
Larded Fillet of Beef with Mushrooms Asparagus
Mum's Best Dry
Roast Jumbo Squash
Waldorf Salad, with Mayonnaise Strawberry Ice Cream Assorted Cakes American Cheese
Snowflake Crackers
Demitase Coffee
Cigars

It was not until after 12 o'clock when the tables were cleared and the toasts were announced and the responses made.

Hon. Cary A. Hardee, the newly elected president of the association, was toastmaster and he did his part in an exceedingly pleasing and captivating manner.

In addition to the regular toasts he gave out other subjects which he said would be responded to in three and four minute speeches by the gentlemen whose names were called.

The subjects were very "fetching" and produced outbursts of merriment.
In the absence of Hon. Frank Adams, Mr. McLaughlin, of Leesburg, responded to the toast "The Ladies," and did so very humorously and eloquently. At the conclusion of his address he met with great shouts of applause long drawn out and repeated with vigor.

Mr. Hinley, of Live Oak, spoke very wittily of the duties of the Vice President of a Country Bank.

In the absence of Hon. H. H. Buckman, Hon. Jas B. Hodges, of Columbia county, responded to the toast, "The Cracker Legislator." His speech was in a vein of distilled humor. He said that there was a bill pending before the legislature under the title of the "Guarantee Bank Deposit," which the bankers were not enthusiastically favoring. He crackers, he said, have the legislature sewed up in a sack and if you want this bill defeated "see

Mr. John G. Christopher's response to the toast: "Don't Worry," was a gem of purist wit serene and provoked volumes of laughter and loud applause.
It will be printed in the proceedings of the bankers' association and its perusal will be enjoyed.

Mr. Frank Harris, editor of this paper responded to the toast: "The Press," and spoke substantially as follows:

Mr. Toastmaster, Ladies and Gentlemen:
When I received your very kind invitation to deliver the address that I am supposed to make on this occasion had I known that it was to be at a banquet and not before you in regular session, although appreciating it as a very signal honor, I must have declined its acceptance for the reason that I rarely trust myself to attempt an off-hand oration.

Nearly all the speeches that I have ever delivered have been laboriously committed to paper and delivered from manuscript, and I am told that at a banquet this would not be in good form, and I shall not even presume on my age to violate the canons of good taste.

In being unable to make an oral address I am in some very distinguished company. Mr. Jefferson was, perhaps, the greatest man that this country or any country ever produced. He was a voluminous writer, and showed a familiarity with all subjects and his speeches come down to us as faultless productions, yet it is said that when he arose upon his feet to make an address, however large or small the audience, his knees would begin to tremble, his ideas would forsake him and he would splash about like an inexperienced swimmer hunting for dry land.

So I am before you trusting to luck and the inspiration of the moment for the success of the remarks that I shall attempt to make.

But speaking of inspiration, I hope that the same fate will not overtake me that befell a Georgia poet.

A recent issue of the Atlanta Geographic contained a rhapsody after the following fashion:

"Into my poetic soul there came an inspiration,
I took unto myself a wife,
And moved out to this station."

(Three years later.)

"Going from my poetic soul is every inspiration, Durned if I don't believe I have gone and married Carrie Nation!"

I take it that in a distinguished gathering of this character that it is not necessary to go over the history of journalism, as it is so familiar to us all and the mission of the press is so thoroughly understood.

I shall say, however, that some contend that the germ of newspaperism had its beginning when Moses wrote the commandments on the tables of stone. Long years after this, when Rome had reached the zenith of her splendor, a newspaper in manuscript was issued annually called the Actur Diurna. It was not until a long time after this that the art of printing was made practicable, and the newspaper, as we know it, was born. Indeed, it was not until 1837 that the first cylinder press was manufactured, and it was some years after that before one was manufactured in the United States.

HARRIMAN'S LATEST SCHEME
The Wizard of Transportation Contemplates a Billion Dollar Merger of Railroad Interests

New York, April 27.—According to the reports circulated here, E. H. Harriman, the great railroad magnate, is contemplating a consolidation of railroad interests of greater moment than any yet brought about. Mr. Harriman contemplates the merging of the New York Central lines into a billion dollar corporation, with central management and one treasurer. Such a merger would consolidate more than 12,000 miles of railroad including the various lines owned by the Harriman interests or allied with them.
